Top Democratic congressional leaders and the White House also hope to reach a deal in the coming days on a bipartisan bill that would extend federal aid for the victims of the Southern California wildfires. The White House said yesterday that President Bush would sign the spending bill and a separate emergency bill providing disaster funding if the partisan impasse is broken. The Senate approved a $44.7 billion spending bill on Friday and the White House was considering a $44.7 billion bill that was approved by the Senate Appropriations Committee. The House was expected to approve its measure tomorrow. The agreement to deal with the spending bill would bring spending levels on par with fiscal year 2003. But many Republicans have demanded the government be closed for five weeks while a bill to replace the September 11 commission is debated in Congress. More than 12,000 people, including U.S. firefighters, have died from the blazes raging through Southern California, according to the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection. Separately, at least 9 people have died in a fire in the Everglades National Park.Q: Dynamically adding more divs inside a div with Javascript I have a div which contains multiple DIVs like Now I want to dynamically generate more divs inside this div based on a variable. Say if I want to generate 10 divs I would do something like var num = 10; var newdiv = document.createElement("div"); newdiv.id = "4" + num; But how do I append the new div to the div first? A: Try this: var divs = document.getElementById('first').getElementsByTagName('div'); var num = 1cb139a0ed
